

GlottMate — Ders Listesi

A1–C2 · 395 ders. Her satır: ders adı — işlenen konu.

A1 · Beginner

52 ders

- 1 Hello, I'm... — greeting someone and introducing yourself
- 2 Am, Is, Are — the present of 'be': affirmative sentences and contractions
- 3 Are You a Student? — 'be': yes/no questions and short answers
- 4 I'm Not from Here — 'be': negative sentences
- 5 Where Are You From? — countries and nationalities with 'be from'
- 6 Meeting Someone New — introducing yourself and asking someone else the same questions
- 7 This Is My Sister — possessive adjectives: my, your, his, her, our, their
- 8 He, She, They — subject pronouns used with 'be' to talk about other people
- 9 Have You Got a Pen? — 'have got' for possession: affirmative, negative and questions
- 10 What's Your Job? — talking about jobs, with a / an before professions
- 11 How Old Are You? — numbers up to one hundred and asking about age
- 12 People in My Life — talking about your family, friends and the people you work with
- 13 A Cat or an Apple? — the indefinite articles a and an
- 14 One Book, Two Books — regular plurals and the most common irregular ones
- 15 This, That, These, Those — demonstratives for things near and far
- 16 What's in Your Bag? — everyday objects and asking what things are
- 17 There's a Cafe Nearby — there is / there are: affirmative and negative
- 18 Is There a Bank Here? — there is / there are: questions and short answers
- 19 On, In, Under — prepositions of place
- 20 Around My Neighbourhood — describing what there is near your home and where things are
- 21 I Wake Up at Seven — present simple affirmative with I, you, we and they
- 22 She Works at Night — present simple: third person -s
- 23 I Don't Drink Coffee — present simple: negative sentences
- 24 Do You Live Here? — present simple: yes/no questions and short answers
- 25 What Time Is It? — telling the time and using at, on and in for time
- 26 Always, Sometimes, Never — frequency words and where they go in a sentence
- 27 What Are You Doing? — present continuous for what is happening right now
- 28 My Morning — describing your own daily routine from start to finish
- 29 I Love Cooking — like, love and hate followed by an -ing word
- 30 Do You Like It? — object pronouns: me, him, her, it, us, them
- 31 I Can Swim — can and can't for ability
- 32 Can You Help Me? — can for requests and permission
- 33 My Weekend — talking about free time, hobbies and what you do at weekends
- 34 Let's Go Out — inviting someone out, saying yes and saying no
- 35 A Small Red Car — where descriptive words go: before a noun and after 'be'

36	What Does She Look Like? — describing what people look like
37	It's Cold Today — talking about the weather and the seasons
38	What Should I Wear? — clothes words and asking what to wear
39	My Favorite Place — describing a room or a place you like and saying what is in it
40	Show Me a Photo — describing a photo: who is in it and where they are 41	Two Coffees, Please — ordering food and drink with 'I'd like' and 'Can I have'
42	How Much Is It? — asking about prices and quantities when shopping
43	Some Bread, Any Milk — countable and uncountable words with some and any
44	At the Market — food words and buying by amount at a market
45	Turn Left at the Corner — giving and following directions with command words
46	Getting There — transport words and saying how you travel with 'by'
47	I Was There — the past of 'be': was and were
48	We Watched a Film — past simple with regular endings, affirmative sentences
49	I Went, I Saw — past simple with the most common irregular words
50	Did You Like It? — past simple: questions and negative sentences
51	Last Weekend — telling a short story about something you did recently
52	Lost & Found — describing a lost thing and saying where you lost it

- 1 While I Was Waiting — past continuous: affirmative and negative sentences
- 2 What Were You Doing? — past continuous: questions
- 3 It Happened While... — past simple and past continuous together, with when and while
- 4 Ago, Last, Yesterday — expressions that say when something happened in the past
- 5 First, Then, After That — putting the events of a story in order
- 6 My Best Holiday — telling the full story of a past trip
- 7 Two Photos, One Story — comparing two photos and telling the story behind them
- 8 I'm Going to Move — 'be going to' for plans and intentions
- 9 Are You Going to Come? — 'be going to': questions and negatives
- 10 I Think It Will Rain — will for predictions about the future
- 11 Tomorrow, Next Week — expressions that say when something will happen
- 12 I'll Get It! — will for offers and decisions made at the moment of speaking
- 13 I'm Meeting Sam at Six — present continuous for fixed future arrangements
- 14 How About This? — making suggestions with how about, why don't we and shall we
- 15 Let's Make a Plan — arranging to meet someone and agreeing on the details
- 16 Bigger and Better — comparing two things with short words plus -er and than
- 17 More Interesting Than — comparing with 'more' and the common irregular comparisons
- 18 The Best One — superlatives for the top or bottom of a group
- 19 I Prefer This One — saying which of two things you prefer and why
- 20 As Cheap As — 'as ... as' and 'not as ... as' for saying things are equal or not
- 21 Absolutely Freezing! — extreme describing words like freezing, huge and tiny
- 22 He Drives Carefully — describing how someone does something
- 23 Which One Would You Pick? — comparing two real options and explaining your choice
- 24 It Doesn't Fit — changing something in a shop for a different size or colour
- 25 I Have to Work — 'have to' and 'has to' for things that are necessary
- 26 You Don't Have to Come — the difference between 'don't have to' and 'mustn't'
- 27 You Should Rest — should and shouldn't for advice
- 28 Can I Ask Something? — could and may for polite requests and permission
- 29 What's the Matter? — describing health problems and talking to a doctor
- 30 A Friend Needs Help — listening to someone's problem and giving advice
- 31 Have You Ever Been? — present perfect with 'ever' to ask about life experience
- 32 I've Never Tried That — present perfect with 'never'
- 33 Been or Gone? — the difference between 'has been' and 'has gone'
- 34 Tell Me More — asking follow-up questions about someone's experience
- 35 I've Already Finished — present perfect with already and just
- 36 Have You Done It Yet? — present perfect questions and negatives with yet
- 37 Two Truths and a Lie — sharing unusual experiences and asking about someone else's
- 38 How Much Sugar? — much, many and 'a lot of' with things you can and cannot count
- 39 A Few or a Little? — 'a few' and 'a little' for small amounts

40	Too Small, Not Big Enough — 'too' before and 'enough' after a describing word
41	How Long, How Far — asking about time, distance and size
42	Something, Anything, Nothing — words built with some-, any- and no-
43	Mine, Yours, Theirs — possessive pronouns and asking with 'whose'
44	Packing for a Trip — deciding what to take and how much of it you need
45	Because and So — joining two ideas with because and so
46	If It Rains, We'll Stay — talking about a likely future situation and its result with if
47	When Water Boils — using if and when for things that are always true
48	As Soon As I Arrive — as soon as, when and until for talking about future time
49	Maybe, Probably, Definitely — saying how sure or unsure you are about something
50	I Came Here to Learn — using 'to' plus an action word to explain why you do something
51	I Want to Go, I Enjoy Going — which common words are followed by 'to' and which by -ing
52	Making a Decision — talking through a choice and what would follow from it
53	Would You Mind? — making polite requests and answering them
54	I'm Sorry, I Can't — saying no politely and apologising
55	A Small Favour — asking neighbours and colleagues for favours politely
56	Booking a Room — booking travel and a place to stay
57	Something Went Wrong — complaining politely and returning something
58	Can You Say That Again? — asking someone to repeat, slow down or explain
59	Sorting Out a Problem — solving a real problem on the phone from start to finish
60	The Man Who Helped Me — joining sentences with who, which and that
61	Don't Burn Yourself — myself, yourself and each other
62	The Other One — other, another and the others
63	I Used to Play Football — 'used to' for past habits that have stopped
64	What Do You Think? — giving an opinion, agreeing and disagreeing politely
65	Boring or Bored? — the difference between boring and bored, and pairs like them
66	A Film Worth Watching — recommending a film or a book and saying why

- 1 It Had Already Started — past perfect for an event that happened before another past event
- 2 By the Time I Got There — past perfect with by the time, already and just
- 3 Setting the Scene — past continuous and past simple working together in a story
- 4 What Had Happened Before — past perfect in questions and negatives
- 5 Suddenly, Meanwhile, Later — expressions that move a story from one moment to the next
- 6 A Story Worth Telling — telling a longer story about something that happened to you
- 7 I've Lived Here for Years — present perfect with for and since
- 8 Have You Finished Yet? — choosing between present perfect and past simple by time period
- 9 I've Been Working on It — present perfect continuous for an activity still going on
- 10 How Long Have You Been Doing That? — present perfect continuous in questions
- 11 Milestones and Firsts — talking about achievements and turning points in your life
- 12 Where I've Got To — describing your progress in something you are working on
- 13 This Time Next Year — future continuous for something in progress at a future moment
- 14 I'll Have Finished by Then — future perfect for something completed before a future point
- 15 Likely, Bound To, Unlikely — saying how probable you think something is
- 16 Making Arrangements — fixing plans with other people and confirming details
- 17 Might, May, Could — talking about future possibility that is still open
- 18 The Year Ahead — talking about your plans, hopes and worries for the coming year
- 19 If I Had More Time — second conditional for unreal or unlikely present situations
- 20 Unless You Ask — unless, as long as and provided that for stating conditions
- 21 In Case It Rains — in case for precautions, and how it differs from if
- 22 I Wish Things Were Different — wish and if only for regrets about the present
- 23 On the One Hand — weighing two sides of a question out loud
- 24 What Would You Do? — talking through imaginary situations and defending your answer
- 25 He Said He Was Tired — reporting statements and shifting the words back in time
- 26 She Asked Where I Lived — reporting questions and the word order they take
- 27 They Told Me to Wait — reporting requests, orders and advice
- 28 Admit, Deny, Suggest — reporting words that carry more meaning than say and tell
- 29 Passing On a Message — relaying what someone else said to a third person
- 30 What Did They Tell You? — retelling a whole conversation you were part of
- 31 It Was Built in 1900 — past events described without saying who did them
- 32 English Is Spoken Here — present habits and facts described without naming the doer
- 33 It Has Been Repaired — recent results described without naming who produced them
- 34 Who Was It Made By? — asking such questions and naming the doer when it matters
- 35 Reporting an Incident — describing what happened when you cannot say who was responsible
- 36 How It's Made — explaining a process step by step
- 37 The Woman Who Called — joining sentences with who, which and that to identify someone
- 38 My Brother, Who Lives Abroad — adding extra information with commas around the added part
- 39 The Place Where We Met — using where, when and whose to join sentences

40	A Nice Old Wooden Table — the order describing words go in before a thing
41	Hard to Describe — describing something when you do not know the exact word
42	Someone I Admire — describing a person in detail and saying why they matter to you
43	She Must Be Tired — must, might and can't for working out what is true now
44	It Can't Have Been Him — must have, might have and can't have for working out the past
45	It Looks Like Rain — saying what something seems or appears to be
46	I'm Not Sure, But — softening a guess so you are not fully committed to it
47	Apparently, It Turns Out — passing on something you heard without vouching for it
48	Solving a Mystery — working out what happened from the clues you have
49	I Used to Smoke — used to for habits and states that have stopped
50	We Would Spend Summers There — would for actions repeated again and again in the past
51	I'm Getting Used to It — be used to and get used to for what has become normal
52	Always Complaining — always with the -ing form for habits that irritate you
53	How Things Have Changed — comparing how things were with how they are now
54	Then and Now — describing how your own life has changed over the years
55	I Enjoy Reading, I Want to Read — which common words are followed by -ing and which by to 56	I Stopped Smoking, I Stopped to Smoke — words whose meaning changes depending on -ing or to
57	Look Up, Look After — common two-word expressions and where the object goes
58	Saying It More Precisely — choosing a more exact word than the first one that comes to mind
59	It's Worth Trying — fixed expressions that take an -ing word after them
60	Although, However, Despite — showing contrast between two ideas in one stretch of speech
61	Explaining Yourself Clearly — explaining something complicated in simple words
62	You're Coming, Aren't You? — short check questions added to the end of a sentence
63	So Tired, Such a Long Day — so and such for adding force to what you say
64	Enough, Too Much, Plenty — talking about amounts precisely
65	Getting Your Point Across — giving an opinion and agreeing or disagreeing with force
66	Keeping a Conversation Going — follow-up questions and reactions that invite someone to say more
67	A Real Discussion — discussing a topic you genuinely care about
68	Telling It Like It Is — giving your honest view even when it is uncomfortable

- 1 If I Had Known — third conditional: setting up a past situation that did not happen
- 2 I Would Have Called — third conditional: the result half of the sentence
- 3 I Should Have Listened — should have and ought to have for regret and criticism
- 4 If I Had Studied, I'd Be Rich Now — mixed conditional: a past cause with a present result
- 5 Looking Back — expressions for regret and hindsight
- 6 The Turning Point — talking about a single decision that changed your direction
- 7 What I'd Do Differently — reflecting on a mistake and what you learned from it
- 8 It Might Have Been Worse — might have and could have for possibilities in the past
- 9 You Needn't Have Bothered — needn't have and didn't need to, and how they differ
- 10 I'd Rather You Hadn't — would rather and would sooner pointing at the past
- 11 Suppose We Had Gone — playing out a past that never happened
- 12 It Was Meant to Be — expressions about luck, fate and coincidence
- 13 Was It Worth It? — judging whether a past decision paid off
- 14 An Alternative Life — imagining in detail the path you did not take
- 15 It Is Said That — impersonal reporting with it is said and it is believed
- 16 He Is Thought to Be — the personal reporting pattern with is thought and is said
- 17 She Denied Taking It — reporting words followed by an -ing word
- 18 He Refused to Comment — reporting words followed by to and an action
- 19 Sources and Hedging — quoting a source without committing to it yourself
- 20 Rumour Has It — passing on unverified news and flagging it as such
- 21 The Story Behind the Headline — discussing a news story and how far it can be trusted
- 22 I Had My Hair Cut — have something done for services you arrange
- 23 We Got the Roof Fixed — get something done, and when it feels different from have
- 24 I Need This Sorted — need and want followed by a finished result
- 25 Make, Let, Help — making someone do something and allowing them to
- 26 Arranging Services — booking work and chasing it up
- 27 When It Goes Wrong — complaining about work that was done badly
- 28 Sorting Out the House — organising several pieces of work over the phone
- 29 Having Finished, She Left — opening a sentence with having plus a finished action
- 30 Built in 1920, It Still Stands — opening a sentence with a done-form to add background
- 31 The Man Standing Over There — adding an -ing description straight after the thing described
- 32 Both of Which Were Late — quantity words inside a joined-up sentence
- 33 Painting a Picture — vivid description that puts the listener in the scene
- 34 A Place I Know Well — describing a complex place richly and at length
- 35 Explaining a Situation — laying out something complicated so it can be followed
- 36 What I Need Is Time — starting with what to push the important part to the end
- 37 It Was You Who Said It — starting with it was to single one element out
- 38 Never Have I Seen That — putting a negative word first and flipping the order after it
- 39 The Thing Is — flagging the important part of what you are about to say

40	Absolutely, Utterly, Completely — intensifying words and which ones pair with which 41	Making a Case — arguing a point and making the key part land
42	Standing Your Ground — holding your position when someone pushes back
43	It's Bound to Happen — expressing near-certainty about what is coming
44	She's Unlikely to Agree — expressing improbability without saying no outright
45	It May Well Be — strengthening and weakening a guess with small words
46	Presumably, Allegedly — single words that signal how sure you are 47	Hedging Your Bets — committing to less than you actually believe
48	Reading the Signs — interpreting an ambiguous situation out loud
49	How Sure Are You? — defending a prediction and admitting its limits
50	Despite Being Tired — despite and in spite of followed by an -ing word
51	Whereas I Prefer Quiet — whereas and while for setting two things directly against each other
52	Even If It Costs More — even if and even though, and the difference between them
53	Much As I'd Like To — conceding first in order to refuse politely
54	Yes, But Then Again — granting a point before making your own
55	Pros and Cons — arguing both sides of a real question and landing somewhere
56	Changing Your Mind — being persuaded and saying so gracefully
57	Remember to Do, Remember Doing — words whose meaning flips between to and -ing
58	I Regret to Tell You — formal announcements with regret, be pleased and be sorry
59	Slightly, Fairly, Somewhat — softening how strong a description is 60	Nearly, Barely, Hardly — near-negative words and what they quietly imply
61	Close Enough — approximating when you do not have exact facts
62	Loaded Words — choosing between words that mean the same but feel different
63	Saying It Kindly — delivering an unwelcome opinion without causing offence
64	Would You Be So Kind — formal requests and how far up the scale to go
65	Give Us a Hand — casual requests between people who know each other
66	I Am Writing to Enquire — the language of a formal written message
67	Just a Quick One — the language of a casual written message
68	Softening the Blow — distancing language that makes bad news land more gently
69	A Difficult Email — working out how to raise a delicate matter in writing
70	Same Thing, Two Ways — saying one message formally and then casually
71	On the Rise — describing how numbers rise, fall and level off
72	Backing Up an Opinion — supporting a claim with reasons and examples
73	Where Do You Stand? — taking and defending a position on a contested topic
74	Scrolling Too Much? — discussing screen habits and what to do about them
75	What's for Dinner? — talking at length about food habits and cooking
76	Love It or Hate It: Tech — weighing what technology gives you against what it takes 77	Finding Common Ground — moving a disagreement towards something both sides accept
78	Wrapping Up a Discussion — summarising what was said and closing cleanly

- 1 Not Only Did She Come — flipping the word order after a negative opener for emphasis
- 2 Only Then Did I Realise — flipping the order after only, not until and no sooner
- 3 It Is Precisely This That — advanced front-loading to pinpoint one element
- 4 What Struck Me Most — foregrounding your own reaction to something
- 5 Driving a Point Home — arguing with deliberate emphasis so the key point cannot be missed
- 6 Understated but Firm — making a strong point quietly rather than loudly
- 7 Were I to Suggest — hypothetical sentences built without if
- 8 Had It Not Been for You — had it not been for and but for, to credit or blame a cause
- 9 It's Time You Decided — the unreal past after it's time, would rather and suppose
- 10 Supposing That Were True — framing an extended hypothetical for discussion
- 11 On the Assumption That — stating openly what your argument rests on
- 12 A Thought Experiment — reasoning step by step through an impossible scenario
- 13 If Things Were Otherwise — discussing at length how a real situation could have been different
- 14 I Would If I Could — leaving out the part the listener can already supply
- 15 Some Do, Some Don't — standing in for a whole idea with so, do and one
- 16 Not That I'd Mind — throwaway qualifications that adjust what you just said
- 17 Reading What Isn't Said — naming the implication behind someone's words
- 18 Between the Lines — discussing what someone really meant and how you know
- 19 Saying No Without Saying No — declining by implication rather than refusing outright
- 20 The Committee Recommends — turning actions into things to sound official
- 21 It Was Agreed That — impersonal reporting that removes the actor entirely
- 22 Should You Require Assistance — formal hypotheticals built without if
- 23 Institutional Language — the standard vocabulary of official communication
- 24 A Formal Complaint — raising a serious issue in fully formal English
- 25 Presenting to a Board — delivering a short, structured formal presentation
- 26 Given That, It Follows — signalling the logical steps of an argument
- 27 Granted, However — conceding a point in order to strengthen your own
- 28 Correlation and Cause — being careful about claiming that one thing caused another
- 29 The Counterargument — stating the opposing view fairly before answering it
- 30 Anticipating Objections — arguing while pre-empting the reply you expect
- 31 A Structured Case — arguing a position from opening to conclusion
- 32 Defending Under Pressure — holding up when your argument is challenged hard
- 33 Little Did They Know — inverted openers that hint at what is coming
- 34 Pacing a Story — speeding up and slowing down a narrative for effect
- 35 The Detail That Matters — choosing what to include and what to leave out
- 36 Bringing People to Life — reporting other people's speech vividly inside a story
- 37 A Story That Lands — telling an anecdote that gets the reaction you want
- 38 Retelling for Effect — telling the same story two ways for two audiences
- 39 Imply and Infer — pairs of words that are commonly confused with each other

40	Degrees of Approval — the scale from barely acceptable to genuinely excellent
41	Hedged and Blunt — how much distance to put between yourself and a claim
42	Tends To, Has a Habit Of — describing tendencies with the right degree of commitment
43	Almost the Right Word — narrowing down to the exact term you are reaching for
44	Describing Something Complicated — giving an accurate account of something genuinely messy
45	Choosing the Register — delivering the same content at three levels of formality
46	Diplomatic Disagreement — objecting clearly without damaging the relationship
47	Chairing a Discussion — running a conversation with several people in it
48	Negotiating Position — signalling where you can move and where you cannot
49	Delivering Bad News — announcing something unwelcome clearly and humanely
50	Giving Difficult Feedback — a candid conversation that stays constructive
51	A Negotiation — reaching an agreement that neither side resents
52	Handling a Crisis Call — staying clear and calm while information is still incomplete
53	Idioms Worth Knowing — common fixed expressions and the situations they fit
54	Words That Go Together — which words habitually pair with which
55	Humour and Irony — signalling that you do not mean something literally
56	What Not to Say — expressions that land badly and safer alternatives
57	Reading the Room — adjusting how you speak to the company you are in
58	Talking Across Cultures — a conversation where the unspoken assumptions differ
59	Sustaining a Long Turn — holding the floor coherently for more than a few sentences
60	Signposting Where You're Going — mapping a long answer so the listener can follow
61	An Abstract Question — discussing a question that has no clean answer
62	A Subject You Know Deeply — going into real depth on something you know well
63	A Subject You Know Nothing About — coping gracefully when you are out of your depth
64	Pet Peeves — complaining elegantly about small everyday irritations
65	Overhyped or Worth It? — judging whether something lives up to its reputation
66	Closing the Loop — summarising a long discussion fairly to both sides

1	The Weight of a Word — choosing between near-synonyms by what they suggest, not what they mean
2	Faint Praise — saying something positive that is heard as criticism
3	Deliberate Vagueness — being unspecific on purpose while still sounding responsive
4	The Art of Understatement — dialling a description down so the gap does the work
5	Describing a Person Precisely — building a portrait of someone that avoids cliché
6	The Same Fact, Three Framings — reframing one event three ways without changing the facts
7	Choosing Your Words Carefully — a conversation where the exact wording carries real consequences
8	Appeals That Work — appealing to reason, to feeling and to your own credibility
9	The Rhetorical Question — questions that make a statement rather than seek an answer
10	Repetition and Rhythm — patterns of repetition that make a point stick
11	Pitching an Idea — a short persuasive pitch with a clear ask
12	Winning a Sceptic — persuading someone who starts out against you
13	Persuading Without Pressure — influencing someone while leaving the decision genuinely theirs
14	Changing Someone's Mind — a real attempt to shift a firmly held view
15	Opening Positions — the language of a first offer and a first response
16	Trading and Conceding — giving something in order to get something
17	Deadlock and Deadlines — moving a conversation that has stopped moving
18	A Salary Conversation — negotiating your own terms without damaging the relationship
19	A Difficult Client — holding your value under sustained pressure
20	Multi-Party Negotiation — reaching one agreement among three competing interests
21	Walking Away — ending without a deal but keeping the relationship intact
22	Framing the Question — defining the terms before the argument starts
23	Attacking an Argument — going after the reasoning rather than the person
24	Concession as Strategy — giving ground deliberately in order to gain it
25	A Formal Debate — arguing a clear motion under debate conventions
26	Devil's Advocate — arguing a case you personally do not believe
27	The Uncomfortable Question — answering the question you would rather avoid
28	When You're Wrong — conceding an argument without losing standing
29	Dry and Deadpan — humour delivered flat, without signalling itself
30	Self-Deprecation — making yourself the joke without seeming to fish for reassurance
31	Sarcasm and Its Risks — when sarcasm works and when it does real damage
32	Banter — fast, friendly back-and-forth that stays warm
33	Reading a Joke That Fell Flat — recovering when humour lands badly
34	Humour in a Serious Setting — lightening a tense moment without undercutting it
35	Telling a Funny Story — building an anecdote so the laugh arrives where you want it
36	Structure of a Long Story — shaping a narrative that runs for many minutes
37	Switching Time for Effect — moving between past and present inside a story to heighten it
38	Digression and Return — going off on a tangent and getting back cleanly
39	A Life Story — telling your own history at length and with shape

40	Someone Else's Story — retelling a story that is not yours without distorting it
41	A Story With a Point — narrative that exists to argue something
42	Holding an Audience — sustaining a long turn that nobody wants to interrupt
43	Talking About Ideas — the vocabulary of abstraction and generalisation
44	Defining the Undefinable — pinning down a concept that resists a clean definition
45	Ethics and Trade-offs — discussing a dilemma where every option costs something
46	Technology and Society — discussing a broad contemporary question from several angles
47	Art and Taste — defending a judgement that cannot be proved
48	What Makes a Good Life — a genuinely open discussion about what matters
49	Disagreeing About Values — a disagreement where the gap is fundamental, not factual
50	The Language of Leadership — how authority speaks without sounding authoritarian
51	Vagueness as Strategy — saying very little while sounding substantive
52	An Interview at Senior Level — a high-stakes professional conversation about your own record
53	Briefing and Being Briefed — moving dense information in both directions efficiently
54	Public Speaking — delivering a short prepared address to a room
55	Questions Under Scrutiny — handling unscripted questions from a sceptical room
56	Representing an Organisation — speaking for other people rather than for yourself
57	Small Talk at Altitude — effortless conversation with someone you have just met
58	A Long Conversation — sustaining an unhurried conversation over a long stretch
59	Guilty Pleasures — confessing tastes you defend with irony and charm
60	Commuting Stories — turning a mundane daily experience into a story worth hearing
61	City vs. Small Town — arguing lifestyle trade-offs with texture and nuance
62	Interviewing Someone — drawing out a person you have only just met
63	Being Interviewed — answering well with no preparation and no script
64	A Conversation That Matters — a conversation with real stakes and real feeling
65	Just Talking — unstructured conversation with no agenda at all